01 Episode Overview

The photograph leads Sora to the Tonle Sap and the clinic where her mother died. The episode opens in afternoon light among the living, then the monsoon arrives. Inside the drowned clinic, Sora learns why her name is on the list, and who the spirit in the water really is.

LOCATION Tonle Sap Lake Floating village and stilt clinic	NIGHT Night 5 of 7 Daylight, then monsoon	PLAYTIME 1.5 – 2 hours 3 acts
CORE MECHANIC Water and warmth Rowboat, wetness, safe lights	THREATS Chhlong Tonle The drowned spirit · storm surge	SEAL #3 Terracotta Water Jar Purified on the deck

1.1 Episode goal

Find Sok's hidden vault in the flooded clinic, restore power to the drainage pump, recover the Terracotta Water Jar from the iron safe and purify it before the clinic collapses.

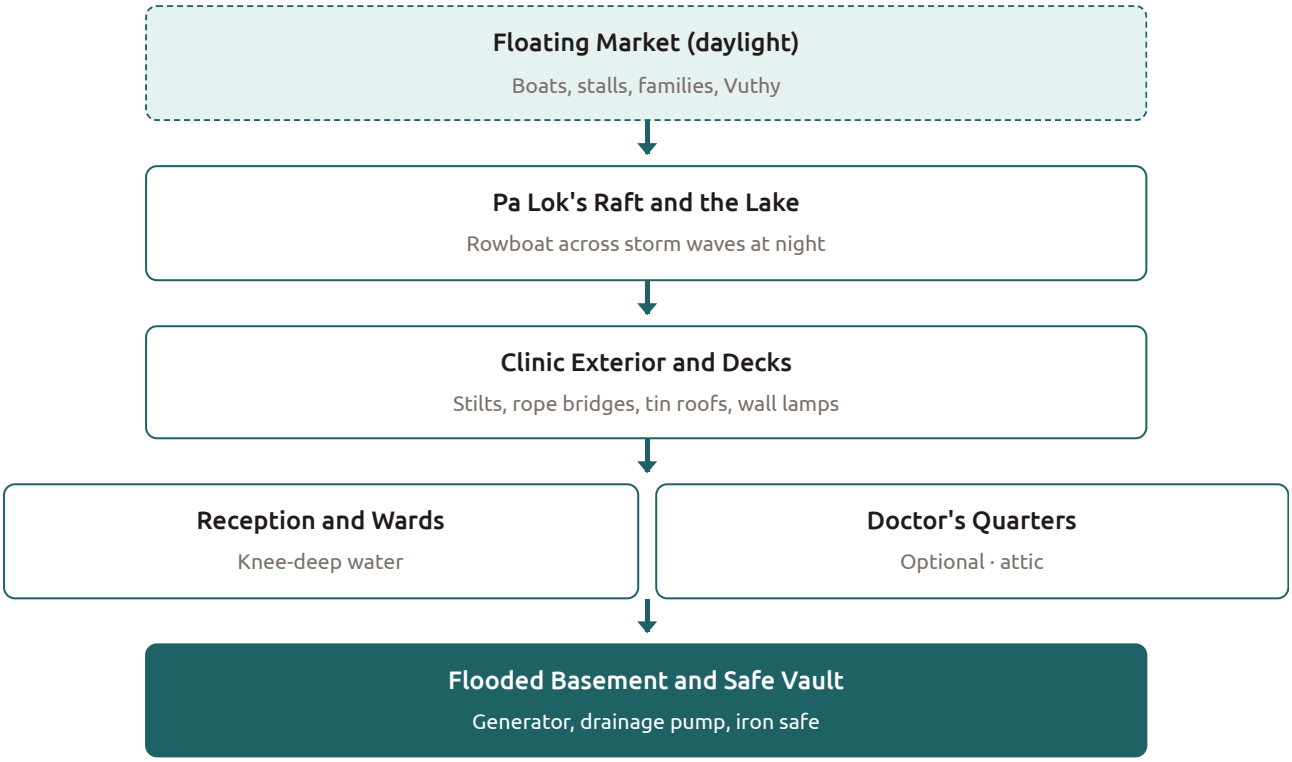

1.2 Content at a glance

Puzzles (6)	Finding Pa Lok · sealing windows · three fuses · Khmer lunar-date safe · purification · rooftop escape route
Threat encounters (4)	Flooded wards · rising water · tilting basement · the spirit on the deck
Optional area	The doctor's quarters in the clinic's attic (two lore notes, a drying stove)
Formula break	The episode opens in daylight at a busy floating market
Key choice	Free the spirit fully, or only purify the seal
Revelation	The mid-season twist: Sok renamed the debt, and the spirit is Sora's mother

02 Characters

Character	Role	Description	Gameplay function
Sora ស៊ូរ៉ា	Protagonist	Exhausted, soaked and now afraid for her own life. At the clinic, her memories of her mother start to surface.	Player character.
Grandfather Pa Lok 70	Fisherman	A reclusive fisherman on a floating raft. In 1920 he rowed Kanha to the clinic on the night she died. He recognises her daughter at once.	Rents the boat; rescues Sora at dawn.
Vuthy វុទ្ធី	Cousin	Turns up at the market claiming he came to take Sora home. Yay Mey has told him that his was the first name written, and he is terrified that if Sora tries and fails, the guardian will come for him. Later, he cuts her boat loose.	Daylight scene; sabotage.
Pich ពេជ្រ Mrenh Kongveal	Helper spirit	Kanha's baby son, who died with her in 1920. Now a small, child-like guardian spirit (ព្រេងញ្ជាតដ្ឋាស): heard as light footsteps and a soft giggle, glimpsed at the edge of the lamplight. He stays close to his mother.	Leads Sora along dry routes and to one fuse. Never a threat.
Chhlong Tonle water spirit	Enemy	The spirit of a woman who drowned in the clinic during childbirth in 1920, long hair trailing through black water. She is Kanha, Sora's mother: the third payment, trapped where she died.	Hunts anyone in the water.
The Neak Ta shadow	Antagonist	Drives the storm surge and smashes the clinic's stilts.	Act III collapse.

03 Locations and Layout

Area	Description and key props	Gameplay use
Floating Market	Late-afternoon light on a cluster of floating houses and boats: fish, vegetables, sampans (សំប៉ាន), children, a noodle seller, storm clouds building in the west.	Daylight exploration; finding Pa Lok; meeting Vuthy
Lake at Night	Black water, storm waves, bamboo poles, bobbing storm lanterns.	Rowboat crossing
Clinic Exterior	A two-storey French-Khmer clinic on thick stilts; faded teal walls, corrugated iron roofs drumming in the rain; slick plank bridges; large fixed wall lamps.	Entry; dry routes; safe zones
Reception and Wards	Knee-deep murky water; floating patient files, vials, iron beds, upturned rocking chairs; rain pouring through ceiling cracks.	Aquatic stealth; sealing; fuses
Doctor's Quarters · optional	Sok's old attic room: a narrow bed, medical books, a charcoal stove, a Khmer lunar calendar.	Drying stove; two lore notes; calendar clue
Basement Vault	Low concrete-and-timber cellar flooded to chest height; diesel generator; iron safe.	Generator; safe; tilting escape

04 Story and Gameplay by Act

Act I · The Floating Market

formula break

Playtime 0:00 – 0:25 · 4:30 PM – 11:00 PM

For the first time, the player is somewhere full of life and daylight. Sora moves between boats asking about the old clinic. Most people go quiet; a noodle seller points her to an old fisherman who "rowed a woman there once".

Vuthy is waiting at the market. He is pale and jumpy. "Grandmother told me something. Please, Sora, leave it alone. Let it end the way it was written." If Sora shared the journal in Episode 1, he knows exactly what the seals are and begs her to stop; if not, he won't say why. She refuses to leave.

Pa Lok knows her face: she has her mother's eyes. He tells her he rowed Kanha to the clinic in 1920 and never forgave himself. As the storm rolls in at dusk, he lends her a boat:

> "The water remembers everything, girl. The spirit in that clinic drags down anyone who steps into her dark water. Keep yourself dry, and keep your light bright."
> Grandfather Pa Lok

At 11:00 PM, Sora rows into the storm.

Act II · Whispers Under the Floorboards

Playtime 0:25 – 1:05 · 11:30 PM – 2:30 AM

Water-damaged ledgers show that Sok worked here as the clinic's medic until 1920 and returned in secret in 1931. As Sora wades into the wards, the water ripples with no wind. The Chhlong Tonle rises from an opening in the floor, a long-haired shape made of water, and sinks again.

Element	Description
Aquatic stealth	Watch for ripples; climb onto furniture, crates and upper walkways; use the wall lamps' safe zones.
Sealing	Board windows and cover roof leaks with planks and tarps to stop key rooms flooding.
Fuses	Three dry brass fuses in sealed medical tins restore power to the drainage pump.
Pich new	Small footsteps on dry boards and a child's giggle lead Sora along safe routes above the water and to the hardest-to-find fuse. Following him is optional but helpful.
Optional: doctor's quarters	A charcoal stove to dry and warm Sora, two lore notes and the Khmer lunar calendar used in Act III.

Act III · The Letter in the Safe

Playtime 1:05 – 1:45 · 2:30 – 4:30 AM

The generator roars; the pump drains the basement. The iron safe's dial uses Khmer numerals. Sok's logs give one date in the Khmer lunar calendar, the night of Kanha's death, which Sora must convert (section 7.2).

Inside: the Terracotta Water Jar, sealed with earth from the 1910 shrine, and a bundle of unsent letters from Sok to his son. As Sora lifts the jar, the vault dissolves into a playable memory as Sok, kneeling in this same room in 1931 (section 5). When it ends, the water around her has gone still, and the spirit rises in front of her, close enough now for Sora to see her mother's face.

Then the Neak Ta strikes: stilts crack and the clinic tilts toward the lake. Sora climbs out of the flooding basement on shifting boards to the upper deck, where she must perform the purification while the spirit circles in the water below (section 8).

Resolution · Pa Lok's Raft

4:30 – 5:00 AM

Sora runs for her boat. It is gone; the rope has been cut. With the clinic collapsing, she escapes across the roofs to the last standing stilt (section 7.4). Pa Lok, who couldn't sleep, finds her there at first light.

On the raft he admits that a young man in a town suit paid him that afternoon to "keep the girl away from the clinic" and asked where her boat was tied. Sora knows who it was. Before she leaves, Pa Lok presses his old brass compass into her hand: "Where you're going, you'll need to know which way is home."

Inside the jar's seal, wrapped in oilcloth, is a burnt piece of rubber stamped Compagnie des Caoutchoucs de Kampong Cham, 1928, the year Sok visited the estate. Blood seeps from the stamp, east across the map. Sora fills in the fifth circle. Two nights remain.

05 The Mid-Season Twist

PLAYABLE MEMORY · SOK, 1931

The player becomes Sok, kneeling in the dry vault in 1931 with a rubbing of the slab's fourth line before him. He cuts his palm and mixes his blood with earth from the jar. The player must scrape away the name Vuthy and write Sora; the action cannot be refused, only slowed. Sok's hand shakes. He whispers: "Forgive me, Kanha. She's yours. Let her be yours, and let my boy live." The memory ends with Sora holding the jar.

SOK'S LETTERS (OPTIONAL READING)

Sok writes to Vuthy that he failed to save Kanha in this clinic, and that the fourth payment would take Vuthy, the eldest of the fourth generation. He could not bear it. In 1931, using earth from the 1910 shrine sealed in the terracotta jar, he performed a ritual that scraped Vuthy's name from the debt and wrote Sora's in its place. She had no one left, he reasons, and she had left the family behind.

Then guilt: he learned that the named debtor alone can break the seals and sever the pact. He decided to begin the work himself and spare her, knowing it would probably kill him. If he failed, his journal would guide whoever kept his vigil. "She will have the way out I am giving her. It is more than I gave Kanha."

What it changes	Sok is not a tragic hero but a frightened father who chose Sora to die. The journal that guided her was an apology and a trap at once.
Recontextualises	The scraped name on the Episode 1 slip; Yay Mey's silence; the photograph of Sok and Kanha; why Sok knew so much about the clinic.
Sets up	Vuthy's motive in Episode 4 (once he knows, he has every reason to make sure the debt is paid by Sora) and the final choice in Episode 5.

06 Threat Escalation

Stage	Threat	What changes
Act I	The storm	No spirit. Waves push the boat; wetness begins.
Act II	Chhlong Tonle	Surfaces only through openings in flooded floors. Leaks slowly raise the water unless rooms are sealed.
Act III	Rising water	The water rises across the whole ground floor; she can now reach along any wet surface, and sealed leaks start to burst again.
Collapse	Neak Ta	The building tilts; debris falls; the boat is gone.

07 Puzzles

7.1 Sealing and fuses

Step	Action	Result
1	Find planks and tarps; board windows and cover roof leaks in key rooms.	Water stops rising there; dry routes open.
2	Locate three dry fuses in sealed medical tins.	Fuses collected.
3	Install them and crank the diesel generator.	Pump drains the basement.

7.2 The Khmer lunar-date safe new

Step	Action	Result
1	In Sok's logs, find the night Kanha died, written as a Khmer lunar date in Khmer numerals.	Date copied into the sketchbook.
2	Use the Khmer lunar calendar (doctor's quarters, or a torn page in the wards) to work out the dial numbers.	Combination.
3	Set the dial, which is marked in Khmer numerals (0–6).	The safe opens: the jar and Sok's letters.

The calendar system and the date must be checked with the cultural advisor. The puzzle should teach Khmer numerals gently, with the sketchbook showing a numeral key.

7.3 The purification

Step	Action	Result
1	On the tilting upper deck, pour sanctified water over the jar.	Ritual begins; checkpoint.
2	Light three yellow candles in a triangle around it, sheltering them from wind and rain.	Seal #3 breaks. The choice in section 8 decides what happens to the spirit.

7.4 The rooftop escape

With no boat, Sora must find a route across the clinic's roofs, rope bridges and broken stilts to the one stilt that still stands. The route uses planks and ropes the player may have moved during the sealing puzzle.

08 Key Choice and Tracking

FREE HER

Sora stays at the rail and calls her mother by name, with the full verse from the doctor's quarters notes (or Pa Lok's words) and one more candle. The water rises around her while she does it. The spirit becomes Kanha for a moment, touches her daughter's face, takes the small hand of the child spirit beside her, and dissolves with him into light. Respect +2. Kanha's voice will help Sora in the Episode 5 Water trial.

BREAK THE SEAL AND RUN

Sora completes only the seal ritual. The flash disperses the spirit into painful mist, not freed, and Sora runs. Pich's footsteps fade into the water after his mother. No change. In Episode 5, Kanha's sorrow distorts the Water trial, making it harder.

Tracked in this episode	Source
Respect	Mother freed (+2)
Knowledge (lore notes)	5 notes: two in the doctor's quarters, the 1920 admission record (a mother and her infant son; Kanha's note names him Pich), two more of Sok's letters
Vuthy	No change; his sabotage is fixed story

09 Mechanics Reference

Mechanic	Rules	Feedback
Rowboat	Left and right oar strokes; waves and wind push the boat; docking points. A guided path with limited steering is the fallback if full physics is too costly.	Oar sounds, rocking, spray.
Wetness	Rises in water and rain; at high wetness Sora slows and loses warmth.	Wet vignette at screen edges.
Body temperature	Drops while wet; when low, shivering adds noise and the lamp flickers; at the lowest level Sora collapses (checkpoint).	Shivering breath; unsteady view.
Safe zones	Fixed wall lamps and the attic stove dry and warm Sora; the spirit won't enter lit zones. Some lamps need oil first.	Warm glow; steam from clothing.
Water level	Rooms flood unless sealed; the pump lowers the basement; Act III raises everything.	Visible water line.
Playable memory	Reuses the Episode 2 flashback system with Sok's hands and a short, scripted interaction.	Sepia shift; Sok's breathing.

10 Items and Lore Notes

Item	Type	Found / use
Rowboat and oars	Equipment	Lent by Pa Lok; cut loose by Vuthy
Planks and tarps	Puzzle items	Decks and wards
Brass fuses ×3	Key items	Sealed medical tins
Sok's logs, Khmer lunar calendar	Clues	Wards; doctor's quarters
Sanctified water, yellow candles	Ritual items	Given by Pa Lok, who keeps them for the lake spirits
Terracotta Water Jar	Seal #3	Iron safe; its shrine soil is the Episode 5 remnant
Sok's letters to Vuthy	Story item	Iron safe; the twist
Burnt rubber with 1928 stamp	Story item	Inside the jar's seal
Brass compass	Equipment	Gift from Pa Lok at dawn; used in Episode 4

11 Audio and Visual Specification

Colour palette	Act I: warm afternoon gold, green water, colourful boats. Then dark teal, murky brown, gunmetal grey, wet wood and amber lamplight.
Post-processing	Rain on the view, water reflections, lightning flashes, lens distortion, film grain.
Ambience	Market chatter, boat engines and paddles; then heavy rain on tin roofs, thunder, water against stilts, creaking timber.
Horror cues	Sloshing water, wet dragging steps, muffled crying under the water, a lullaby fragment (Kanha), diesel chugs, snapping stilts.
Interface	100% diegetic: wetness as a screen-edge vignette; oil gauge on the lamp; maps in the sketchbook.

12 Glossary, Revision Notes and Open Issues

Term	Khmer	Meaning	Note
Tonle Sap	ទន្លេសាប	The great lake
Sampan	សំប៉ាន	Small wooden boat
Khmer numerals	០ ១ ២ ៣ ៤ ៥ ៦ ៧ ៨ ៩	Digits 0–9	Used on the safe dial
Chhlong Tonle	—	Drowned water spirit	Confirm the folk term and spelling
Pa Lok	—	The fisherman	"Grandfather" is usually តា; confirm the name

Changes in v3.0

- Playtime reduced to 1.5–2 hours. Opens in daylight at a floating market.
- New: Pa Lok's link to Kanha; Vuthy's appearance and sabotage; the Khmer lunar-date safe; the optional doctor's quarters; escalation; the mid-season twist; the spirit revealed as Sora's mother; the free-her choice; the rooftop escape.
- Clinic timeline resolved: Kanha drowned in 1920; the clinic was abandoned afterwards; Sok returned in secret in 1931.
- v3.1 (Story Bible): the twist is now a playable memory as Sok (letters become optional reading); Vuthy's motive is fear of rule 12, told to him by Yay Mey.
- v3.2: Kanha's baby son Pich added as a gentle helper spirit (Mrenh Kongveal), resolving what happened to the baby.

OPEN ISSUES

- The spirit died in childbirth and is Sora's mother. Handle with great care and review with the cultural advisor.
- Confirm the Khmer lunar-calendar conversion used by the safe puzzle.
- Confirm with the advisor that showing Kanha's baby as a Mrenh Kongveal (a child-like guardian spirit) is appropriate.
